Royal Navy Rum Terminology

Grog: Traditionally, 2 parts water, 1 part Pusser's Rum.

Tot: 1/8th pint rum, the standard daily ration.

Sippers: A small gentlemanly sip from a friend's rum issue.

Gulpers: One, but only one, big swallow from another's tot.

Sandy Bottoms: To see off whatever's in a mug when offered by a friend.

"Splice the Main Brace!": A double tot for a job well done, or an invitation aboard for free drinks--and to say to a friend, "Let's Splice the Main Brace!" is synonymous with, "Let's have a drink!"

The framework of Hospitality: Where 3 sippers equal 1 gulp, and 3 gulps equal 1 tot!

Bob's--a--Dying: In Nelson's day, meant a "stupendous, drunken bash."

A Long Swig at the Halliards: To "tie" one on!

Royal Navy Traditional Toasts

Monday	Our ships at sea.
Tuesday	Our men
Wednesday	Ourselves (as no one is likely to concern themselves with our welfare).
Thursday	A bloody war and quick promotion.
Friday	A willing soul and sea room.
Saturday	Sweethearts and wives, may they never meet.
Sunday	Absent friends and those at sea.

But the standing toast that pleased the most was:

"The wind that blows

The ship that goes

And the lass that loved a sailor!"

The Perfect Kalapana Colada

*4 ounces of pineapple juice
1 ½ ounces cream of coconut*

*1 ½ ounces of dark rum
½ banana
5 – 8 seedless red or green grapes*

Mix all ingredients with cracked ice in a blender and pour into a chilled Collins glass. Float an extra shot of dark rum on the top and garnish with a Maraschino cherry and an orange slice.
